To Mr. Connor:

The Class of 1954 is proud to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Gordon Connor for his many years of service to the school and to the students. His career as athletic coach and teacher of social studies has earned the respect and admiration of all those who know him. In his new work we wish him all success.

Hear Ye . . . . .

As we grow up in this modern age of ours, we tend to forget the wonders of long ago. We think in terms of the present and future, and we do not give our minds an opportunity to dwell on thoughts of the past.

Yet recently, the traditions of certain nations have recalled to us the pomp, the splendor, and the pageantry of a time when mighty lords ruled and chivalry was the code of every gentleman — the Middle Ages. In keeping with these events, the Echo presents for your enjoyment this story of the school year in a style reminiscent of medieval life.

To the Class of 1954

Your Yearbook Staff, together with the advisor, has spent many hours in studying past publications and in planning this one. Therefore, its excellence is dependent to some extent upon the quality of the work done in the past, as well as upon the imagination, interest and abilities of the present staff. And so it is with you — if you have done your work well during these past three years, a successful future is half won. I know that most of you have such a foundation. You have contributed to our many activities your energy and ability which have made a splendid record for you as an individual and for the class as a whole. We will miss you in the classroom, on the stage, on the athletic field, and in council on questions of policy for the school.

As you disperse after graduation your associations while a member of this school will become dearer and more meaningful as years pass. It will mean a great deal to meet classmates in the years to come, to reminisce and compare information. It will also be of great value to the school if you keep us up-to-date on your every success. We are still interested in you after graduation, and hope that you will contact us whenever there is anything that we can do for you.

Best of luck!

Leslie L. Dunham

Alma Mater

Let our voices loudly ringing
    Echo far and near
Songs of praise thy children singing
    To thy memories dear.
Winthrop High School,
Winthrop High School,
    Tender, fair, and true,
Loyal sons and grateful daughters,
    All our vows renew.

Years may dim our recollections
    Time its changes bring,
Still thy name in fond affection
    Evermore, we sing.
Winthrop High School,
Winthrop High School,
    Tender, fair, and true,
Loyal sons and grateful daughters,
    All our vows renew.

Acclaimed the Best by '55

'Tis only fitting that we here relate
 The ones who've made the Junior class so great —
 Whose accomplishments and qualities display
 The Juniors' fame and spirit every day.
 So now the Juniors show appreciation
 To those who've helped to build their reputation!

Of all their athletes, these excel —
 Robert Usseglio and Marianne Mitchell.

And all other scholars these exceed —
 Simon Sargon and Nancy Reed.

The most attractive: one who enchants —
 Christopher Vigliotta and Lois Rantz.

The best sense of humor of their class —
 Robert Gillis and Roberta Blass.

The best dancers' medal hangs
 On Alice Moriarty and Robert Bangs.

The most friendly — does define
 Fred Laidlaw and Norma Pelrine.

The best school spirit — again the sign
 Of Fred Laidlaw and Norma Pelrine.

The most talented title rests upon
 Phyllis Wolfson and Simon Sargon.

Noted Tops by '56

The Sophomores are our newest class,
 Our best, so they would say.
 So here we list the ones they think
 Have made them feel that way.
 After choosing their best athletes,
 The Sophomores well may smirk.
 For they have Jack MacDonald
 Along with Judy Burke.
 And, of course, of scholars,
 They're supplied with quite a lot.
 The best of them — Carl Olsson
 And Miss Renee DeLott.
 Their most attractive members,
 Chosen for all to see,
 Are handsome Jack MacDonald
 And pretty Janet Saggese.
 And when it comes to neatness,
 It certainly wouldn't appall us,
 If all boys were like Frank Lazzarino,
 And all girls like Patricia Wallace.

The best sense of humor,
 A mind that's sharp and keen,
 Belongs to Pat Staff
 And Anna Liotine.
 The fine art of dancing
 Is always on display,
 If you'd study Howie Dacey
 And follow Sally Fay.
 To find the two most friendly
 Just look for Jack and Jill.
 The Jack is Jackie Duplin,
 The Jill — Rosemary Gill.
 The Sophomores love their school,
 And for these it's a special thrill;
 The best school spirit — (again)
 Jack Duplin and Rosemary Gill.
 In talent they're naturally loaded,
 But their love is something fierce
 For maestro Donald Addrissi
 And maetress Barbara Pierce.

The Round Table — M. H. S. Style

The Activities Committee has been very busy this year under the able leadership of President Hugh Treanor, Vice-President Robert Usseglio, and Secretary Susan Band.

Among the year's activities, the committee successfully ran a dance in conjunction with the music department to raise money for the drum-majorettes' uniforms. The group then planned a Christmas program with Mr. Harotian, which was also a success.

A new project undertaken this year was to collect money to educate a child from West Germany. This was a wonderful gesture for which everyone in the school who contributed should feel proud.

One of the most important jobs which the Activities Committee has every year is sponsoring Career Day — a day on which men and women of different occupations come to the school and speak about their profession. On April 29, under the chairmanship of Nancy Reed, members of the committee escorted these speakers to lunch, then later introduced them to the various student groups. The day was a success largely because of the advance planning done by the committee.

Throughout the year, we have benefited from the expert guidance of Principal Leslie L. Dunham.

Carlers — Troubadours — Minstrels All

Strains of music could be heard floating through the corridors every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday during the lunch periods. Under the capable direction of Mr. Harry Harotian, the Choir was practicing for one of its several programs. Senior and Junior groups rehearsed the first of the week, and the Sophomores the last of the week.

The highlight of the season was the annual concert given in the Spring at St. John's Hall. In addition, the Choir was heard at the Christmas assembly, where it sang a varied program; at the Armistice Day exercises, where it sang theme songs of the Armed Services; at the Mother's Club; and at the Memorial Day assembly.

When the yearbook went to press, plans were being made to send representatives to the music festival.

Sophomore, junior, and senior members alike have gained a varied and impressive repertoire under the guidance of our able and patient director.

We Shall Have Music Wherever They Go

Under Mr. Harotian, who is beginning his first full year here as music director, we started the year by electing officers as follows: President—Al Fearing; Vice-President—Burnell Hersey; Secretary—Phyllis Wolfson; and Treasurer—Richard Teeven.

Although we spent most of the Fall preparing for our performances at football games and rallies, our activities were by no means lessened after the football season. For the first time, members of the band went carolling around the high school before Christmas and participated in a new and entertaining Christmas assembly. Our rehearsals after Christmas were carried on in accordance with plans for a bit of "chamber music" in the form of informal concerts for the high school and parents of the band members.

The Northeastern Music Festival at Lexington followed quickly, and it was not long after that before the annual Spring concert. Plans made for the concert included selections ranging from Merle Isacc's famous "Russian Choral and Overture" and excerpts from Brahms' first symphony to Sousa marches and pop tunes. The social side of this active year included a dance and a picnic.

New and notable additions to the band this year: the "J. V.'s" who made the grade, upping the band to over 50 pieces; Friday rehearsals; and the drum majorette corps.

The Middle Ages Had Nothing Like This

THE DRUM MAJORETTES

Stepping down Miller Field for the Thanksgiving game, our fourteen drum majorettes, dressed in spanking new white and blue uniforms, were greeted with a burst of applause. The spectators appreciated the long hours which the girls devoted to practicing, and everyone was thrilled with the perfection which the majorettes displayed.

This was the girls' only appearance of the season, but it certainly was worth waiting for. We are very proud of our new drum majorettes.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS AND SENIOR MEMBERS

Le Cercle Francais

This year the French Club has had a wonderful term under the able direction of the following officers: Frances DeLott, president; Arnold Rosenblatt, vice-president; Nancy Reed, secretary; and Simon Sargon, treasurer. As can well be seen, the Juniors had a good share in the government of this organization, which was quite different from that of past years.

Under the admirable supervision of Mrs. Helen Piggott and Miss Anne Hey, the faculty advisors, the club turned out many interesting meetings. At each of the eight meetings during the year, the members enjoyed French films, which gave them a better idea of French life and the French countryside. This was also a good method of letting the members hear French actually spoken by the natives themselves. One of the most delightful meetings of the year was the one at which French painting was the theme. Kodachromes, which had been purchased from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, were shown at this meeting.

This year's membership in the club, over sixty, was unusually large, since more students were allowed to join in order that they might enjoy the many French films. The attendance at the club meetings was encouraging to all of us who are French enthusiasts.

Sodalitas Latina

The aim of the Latin Club this year was to become better acquainted with the cultural background of Latin and to compare the ancient Roman customs and civilizations with those of today. With the help of its very capable advisor, Mrs. Angela Romay, and its efficient officers, the club proved to be very successful.

An excellent start was made at the first meeting when the third and fourth year Latin students presented a humorous skit entitled "The Haunted House." Also a "Sybil of Cumae" was on hand to predict revealing fortunes. Later in the meeting the following students were elected officers: Consul, Carl Olsson; Pro-Consul, Frances Bower; Quaestor, Barbara Indresano; and Scriba, June Drohan.

The second and third meetings were highlighted with filmstrips showing the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, the destruction of Pompeii and the awe-inspiring architecture at Rome. Novelty refreshments originating from Roman pastry, such as roscas (the holes of doughnuts) and pretzels, were served at several gatherings. Further meetings based on Cupid, God of Love, the Ides of March, and Neo-Latin presented an interesting and well-rounded program for the year.

Other Latin Club Members are: R. McKenna, F. Bower, M. Albert, E. Aronson, P. Barker, C. Baron, J. Burke, S. Cataldo, R. Cole, E. Cooper, J. DeBonis, R. DeLott, G. Dirksmeyer, R. Ficksman, M. ### El Club Espanol

The Spanish Club began its third season with one objective: to give its members an insight into the life and traditions of the Spanish people. To attain this goal the Spanish Club employed such programming devices as Spanish films, travelogues, plays, games, and songs and dances.

In November, with the help of their advisors, Miss Helen Cady and Mrs. Ida Rodriguez, the advanced Spanish students held a special meeting. At this session the following officers were elected: Gail Piscopo, President; Janet Lithgow, Vice President; Susan Burke, Secretary; and Elaine Broder, Treasurer. A planning committee consisting of the following students was organized: Avis Brick, Janice Cohen, Lois McLean, Barbara Metcalf, Marlene Lupo, and Patricia McAuley.

The cooperation of the officers, planning committee, and other members produced a rewarding season for El Club Espanol.

They've Made History

Last October, Miss Viva Blackburn gave her capable assistance to a student group that aimed to become better acquainted with government procedure. Thus the History Club was started.

Preliminary meetings were held to establish club rules. It was decided that each meeting would emphasize a certain phase of government and that the final meeting would be a party. The club's executive policy was to have a different planning board committee for each meeting in order to give more members a chance to participate actively in club affairs.

A committee consisting of Susan Band, Chairman, Bradford Chace, Frances De Lott, Joan Rich, and Burnell Hersey planned the first meeting, which consisted of an interesting talk on world government and an unusual film on United Nations Day. An entertaining flag contest was held also.

Another fine meeting presented a lively debate and discussion period on the topic: McCarthyism does more harm than good. Eugene Penney was moderator. The affirmative side was ably represented by Norma Terrile and Michal Risman, while Ronald Abrams and Burnell Hersey took the negative view. The following meetings dealt with state and local government.

Scribes of the Year

Under the capable and friendly assistance of our advisor, Miss Florence Wilder, and our editor, Phyllis Rozen, we started off the year looking forward to the pleasant task that lay ahead of us.

We first wrestled with a theme, then picture styles and arrangements. Problems came up in grouping, art, advertising, printing, and many other things which we had always taken for granted. Then the dedication, group pictures, class ballots, and write-ups followed in short order, and we began to appreciate the work behind the yearbook. Pictures had to be taken, material had to be typed, and pages had to be set up. Club meetings, plays, musical activities, sports, and social events had to be covered.

We found ourselves getting an education not offered in our regular courses. Shall we ever forget the afternoons spent soliciting ads, getting boosters, and counting ballots? Shall we ever forget the groups in 214 adjusting write-ups, searching for titles, hunting down names, and looking for "just the right word"? Then that proud moment when the dummy was set up; and finally, of course, the finished product. All these are happy memories that we have all earned.

We of the 1954 Echo sincerely hope that you get as much satisfaction and pleasure out of reading this yearbook as we did in preparing it for you.

For the second year Little Sir Echo has successfully functioned under the able direction of its advisor, Mr. Philip L. Anderson. The editor-in-chief, June Tanar, together with her staff, published the mimeographed newspaper each week. This year, as an added feature they also published two small magazines, one in the winter, the other in the spring.

Credit should be given to the associate editors, Frances DeLott and Susan Band, who devoted much time collecting last minute articles and setting up the "dummy."

Fred Sinatra, the art editor, besides doing all the hand lettering, drew the weekly comical sketch of the now familiar "Little Sir Echo." Stanley Yavner did a fine job as feature editor.

Special praise should be given to the "unsung heroes," Miss Rachel Johnson and her typing class, who typed and mimeographed each edition.

The efforts of all these people were well rewarded by the whole-hearted enthusiasm and co-operation shown by the student body.

Teachers' Helpers

The Projection Club has had another busy year with an increase in membership over last year. Under the leadership of Mr. John Wynn, the members were trained to run the visual aid education equipment for the teachers. Meetings were held on Mondays during the first and second lunch periods. During the meetings the boys were taught how to run the various types of projection equipment that the school owns.

The members have aided the school by running the tape recorder, recording radio speeches for use on a further date, and by showing educational films for assemblies and classes. The senior play, as well as other important affairs, was recorded for future reference.

Watch the Birdie!

The Photography Club, which met every Tuesday during the second and third lunch periods, had a very profitable year. The aim of the club is to help its members take, develop, and print better pictures. All members have access to the photographic facilities of the club.

At the first meeting in October, Mr. Edward Herland, the advisor, appointed a "Rules Committee" which decided the requirements for membership. Fred Sinatra was appointed contest chairman, and Harriet Gold was appointed secretary.

At the meetings, interesting movies were shown and talks given by club members on different phases of photography.

Each month a contest was held in which every member submitted a picture portraying the given theme. Prizes were awarded to the first, second, and third place winners. The club took pictures at the class socials and at other school functions.

A lively Christmas party, and the annual spring picnic provided enjoyable social affairs.

"Annie Get Your Gun"

On December 10 and 11, an outstanding show, "Annie Get Your Gun," was put on by the Class of 1954, under the very able direction of Mr. Robert Leibacher.

Nancy Juggins played the role of Annie Oakley, who is at first "gawky as a scrub-oak," but who, as the play progresses, becomes "rosier and daintier and femininer" because she's bound she'll make that "swollen-headed stiff," Frank Butler, "sit up and take notice."

Frank Butler was very well played by Kevin Connolly.

Nancy and Kevin are to be congratulated, especially, on the wonderful job they did on their songs, which gave so much life to the play.

Jessie (Carol Pavlik), Minnie (Genia Beattie), and Little Jake (Fred Lewis) were Annie's little sisters and brother, who helped Annie get the audience laughing with their version of "Doin' What Comes Naturally."

Cedra Canavan played the romantic lead of Winnie Tate, opposite John Vasel, who played Tommy Keeler. Winnie and her mother, Dolly Tate (Roberta Belkin) are Frank-Butler's assistants during his shows and shooting matches.

Charlie Davenport (Andrew Schultz), Buffalo Bill (Edward Canner), and Sitting Bull (William Donahue) help Annie as she tries to make Frank "break out in a cold sweat."

Pawnee Bill, a great showman of that time, was played by Joseph Martorano.

Cindy Lou (Jackie Bullock) won the audience over with her rendition of "Moonshine Lullaby."

Of course, the play could never have been the success that it was without all the Cowboys, Cowgirls, and Indians; the band members; the stage crew, under the supervision of Mr. John Wynn; the costume committee; the ticket committee; our prop girl, artists, and usherettes.

Mr. Colby, Miss Hey, Mrs. Rodriguez, and Miss Cady were the real artists with the make-up for the cast.

Everyone appreciated Rosalie Dansker's helping with learning lines, and Phyllis Wolfson's superb work at the piano.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

This year the football team made its best showing at the Thanksgiving game in Danvers. For the first play after the kick-off, Cliff Tardiff ran off-tackle to score the only touchdown of the game and to give Winthrop its only victory of the season.

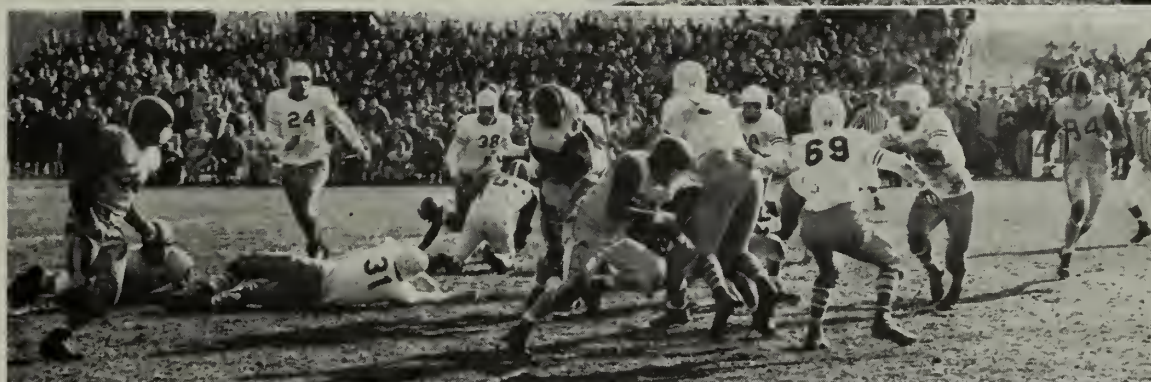

The boys were handicapped this fall by two things: First, an injury kept Captain Jim Donovan from participating in three games. Second, in September only seven lettermen returned to the team. Thus the majority of the boys suffered from a lack of playing experience. This meant a long, hard grind for both the team and the coaches.

Late in the season Coach Macfarland began to build for the future by giving the sophomores and juniors — the backbone of next year's team — a greater opportunity to participate in the games. The senior and undergraduate players alike won the admiration of the school by their hard work and fine team spirit.

At the football rally before the Danvers game, Jim Merchant was awarded the Irving P. Alexander Trophy for showing the most improvement during the season and doing the most for the team as a whole.

The Schedule

Knights of the Court

The basketball team finished the season by beating Danvers in a wild and hectic game and thus capturing fourth place in the Northeastern Conference League.

Captain Richard McKenna, starting center, led the team to ten victories and seven defeats.

Guard John Vasel led the team in the scoring department with 125 Northeastern Conference points.

Guard Irving Streeter aided the team considerably with his fine ball handling and defensive work.

The team was coached by Mr. Gordon B. Connor for the first eleven games. When Mr. Connor resigned, Mr. John Sheehan from Matignon succeeded him for the remaining six games. At Matignon he had some winning basketball teams. Under Mr. Sheehan's method of coaching everyone plays. The Sophomores and Juniors received plenty of well-needed experience under the supervision of Coach Sheehan.

Ladies of the Court

Thanks to the helpful direction of Coach Ellen Kiernan, the girls' basketball team put a great deal of good playing and spirit behind all their games.

The high scorers on the varsity team were Stella Booras and Anna Murray. Marianne Mitchell, Janet Lithgow, Arlene Geller, and Barbara Metcalf were usually seen in the starting line-up helping Stella and Anna.

Although the varsity failed to win any games, everyone had a lot of fun playing and maintaining their "good old" team spirit.

The Junior Varsity ended its season with victories over Malden, 35 to 22, and Woburn, 18 to 15. The outstanding scorers were Judy Burke and Marjorie Wechsler.

Special thanks go to Dorothy King, the score-keeper, and Myrona Bindman, the time-keeper.

What Would We Do Without Them?

The hard practice which the cheerleaders began early last August certainly was rewarded by the enthusiasm with which the girls were greeted when they began to cheer at class assemblies. It was at the assemblies that they reviewed the old, familiar cheers and introduced such new ones as "Jabba Wacca" and "Aski Ki Wi."

The girls led the cheers at every football game; and before they knew it, the season was almost gone, and it was time for the Thanksgiving game rally. At the rally in the Winthrop Theater, the cheerleaders displayed their agility and knowledge of team work when, besides exhibiting fine cheering form, they went through some of the simpler routines of the tumbling team. And then the Thanksgiving game. Here the girls led the cheering throng of spectators and spirited the team on to a thrilling victory over Danvers.

But the hard work of the cheerleaders did not end with the football season. After a few weeks' rest, the "rah-rah" girls were back to hard work once more, getting in trim for the basketball season. When December 15th, the date of our first game, came along, the girls were on the ball leading the school cheers. They followed the team right through the season, and with the last game at Danvers, February 19th, ended a fine year as the Winthrop High School cheerleaders.

The Tumblers — Royal Entertainers!

The Tumbling Team, under the able direction of Mr. Carl Johnson, continued to thrill the crowds during the halves at the football games this season. With many boys returning from last year, and a group of enthusiastic sophomores, the team was able to perform many new and difficult stunts, always ending with the now famous "pyramid." Winthrop High still claims to be the only school in this area with this kind of a team.

Golf Co-Captains Barker and Indresano

The Golf Course

Coach Timothy Sheehan hopes to have a successful golf season with the return of Co-captains Robert Indresano and Robert Barker. Four lettermen are also returning: Joseph Burke, John Costonis, Albert Brooks, and Fred Sinatra. Mr. Sheehan also has his eye on some new prospects, among whom is Sophomore Jack Permatteo.

Winthrop is in the North Shore Interscholastic Golf League. There are eight teams in the league that Winthrop plays — Beverly, Peabody, Salem, Swampscott, Gloucester, Lynn Classical, Lynn English and St. John's.

Baseball captains Donahue and Lewis

The Baseball Diamond

Last year, under the coaching of John Domenico, the team showed skill and improvement. With most of the 1953 team members returning, this year promises to be very prosperous.

Leading the team this year will be co-captains Billy Donahue and Junior Lewis. Returning from last year's team are starters Dick McKenna, Irving Streeter, Kevin Connolly, and Bob Usseglio. Also adding to the strength of the team will be Jimmy Evans, Buzzy Baker, Ronny Jandreau, Teddy Conley, and Hugh Treanor.

The team will be going all out this year to win the Northeastern Conference.

(Below) Cliff Oliver and Cliff Tardiff

The Tennis Court

Piloting this year's tennis team will be Captain Cliff Oliver. Right behind Cliff will be his last year's court mate, Scott Coffin. Adding to the team's strength will be Alan Kelly, Richard Delaware, Louis Brown, Louis Bezreh, Nils Johnson, and the McBournie brothers, Robert and Richard.

Coached by Mr. Morse, the team is looking forward to a fine season.

The Cinder Path

Mr. McClean, the coach of the track team, expects his boys to compete with such schools as St. John's of Danvers, Melrose, Chelsea, Peabody, and Woburn. Clifford Tardiff is the captain and Bradford Chace is the manager.

The cinder path group hopes to repeat last year's record and again win the Northeastern meet.
